

Violet And A Rose

Mel Tillis

A violet fell in love with a rose and started it flashing from its head to its toe Then one day the rose was kissed by the dew
A new love was born and the violet turned blue Roses are red violets are blue I'm sending red red roses to you If you care to send some flowers to me then send me some violet s I'm blue as can be

I wanted my love to bouquet with you but just like the rose you
've proven untrue
A flower that's wild they say has no home and just like the vio let I'm left all alone Roses are red violets are blue
