

Blame

Melanie C

you took me on and you nearly took me down you're never gonna get anywhere you never really got anywhere lost track of times that I have tried to say oh something has to change

I never really got anywhere, oh oh pound for pound we stumble through the rounds and I'm bruised tit for tat, can't ever take it back we both lose

you're never gonna stop the rain but you know you're gonna be ok when you love someone there'll always be another fight but you know you're gonna be alright

I'll take the blame since you decided you're the victim I never meant to let you down I never really let you down don't recognise the things that you remember oh life's so different through your eyes

time to time I wonder how you we died, do you? day after day the past is washed away we're through

there'll always be another fight

it's been the problem all along you wouldn't hear when I tried to tell you and how can you pretend there was nothing wrong? nothing wrong

there'll always be another fight
