

Caught in the eye of the storm
Where we are born
No truth is spoken
Seems so long ago
And you really don't know
How you got broken
Feel me

Give a little bit of love for your people
But save a little bit of love for yourself
Have a little bit of trust in the way you feel
And see your heart melt

Send a little bit of hope down the airwaves
Find a little bit of gold, it might help
You've got to have a little bit of faith in everything you know
Then let your heart melt

Now is your time to rise
The one you can fly
I know why you sent me
Feel me

Give a little bit of love for your people
But save a little bit of love for yourself
Have little bit of trust in the way you feel
And see your heart melt

Send a little bit of hope down the airwaves
Find a little bit of gold, it might help
You've got to have a little bit of faith in everything you do
Then watch your heart
Feel your heart me...lt

Send a little bit of hope down the airwaves
Find a little bit of gold, it might help
You've got to have a little bit of faith in everything you know
Then let your heart
Feel your heart melt
