

Love To Lose Again

Melanie

Some folks take their pleasure slow, others like it fast
And some folks lose their futures by living in the past If you win by taking you might lose your chance to win And if you lose of heartache you are bound to love again

.....love again

Every single daytime loses out to night
And every bit of darkness well it uses up the light You were my religion even though you're just a man And man will go on lovin' so we're bound to lose again, lose again

.....lose again

My cat is meditating and my dog is scratching fleas And me I think too much, most people think too much to see We think too much of loving and we lose more than we win
And woman dies of giving
but she's bound to live again

.....live again

to love all that we can
And woman dies of giving

live oh oooh.....
