To Let You See Me

Melissa Ferrick

Yeah that's me yeah behind you hoping that you won't see that i am not all they make me out to be

But oh to let you see me cuz i am not that pretty oh but you will find out and then, you will leave me

So let me make up all sorts of excuses for why we, shouldn't do this let me think that my heart is not involved let me think we are just using each other and we're equal in our faults

But all this nervous excitement all these reasons to try and get it right and all this procrastination and all of this disobedient behavior is making me crawl

But oh to let you see me cuz i am not that pretty oh but you will find out and then, you will leave me

So let me pretend that this isn't happening let me deny my feelings let me just talk and talk and talk let me say that this something is nothing at all
