

Speechless

Melissa O'Neil

I find I get lost for words around you
Overwhelmed by your presence
I feel the same, I hear the words you won't say
Echo through your eyes
Nothing more for me to say
Silence understand some things
What it meant to be, will be

[Chorus:]

Sometimes it's the words we don't say that get in the way
Time will break down the walls that we've built between us
I won't ever be speechless

This feeling takes me just like a painted sky how do I describe all these colours inside
Nothing left for me to say anyway

[Chorus:]

Sometimes it's the words we don't say that get in the way
Time will break down the walls that we've built between us
I won't ever be speechless

I wanna know you inside out
I want to know you without a doubt
And though we're shy
Would it be easier just to say goodbye
I want to learn to read your mind
I want to say the words but my tongue gets tied
And don't feel shy
Would it be easier just to say goodbye

I find I get lost for words around you
Overwhelmed by your presence

[Chorus:]

Sometimes it's the words we don't say that get in the way
Time will break down the walls that we've built between us
I won't ever be speechless
