

Once I Was Loved

Melody Gardot

I don't remember, when I was young,
I don't recall the day, when I first saw the sun,
But what I am certain, what is enough,
Is just to remember, that I once, once I was loved,
I still surrender, troubles unknown,
No use pretending, how the troubles in my whole,
What I am certain, what is enough,
Is just to remember, that I once, once I was loved,
After years gone by, what amounts to the years in a live,
What have become to, if we reach our final be
If we can surrender, and that is enough,
Just to remember, that once, once we were loved,
Once we were beautiful, once we were loved,

We can surrender, and that is enough,
Just to remember, that once, once we were loved.
