

Pretend I Don't Exist

Melody Gardot

I've waited before
At the foot of your door
Like a lost little doll
I waited for love to call
But got not at all

So I should stay
While you wander away
From the warmth of my lips
Just try to forget my kiss
Pretend I don't exist

I don't think you could give
Any good reason why
I should stay in your arms
So I think you should try to forget
How good it felt
Try not to reminisce
Try to forget my kiss
Pretend I don't exist

I don't think you could give
Any good reason why
I should stay in your arms
So I think you should try to forget
How good it felt
Try not to reminisce
Try to forget my kiss
Pretend I don't exist
