

So We Meet Again My Heartache

Melody Gardot

So we meet again my heartache
So we meet again my friend
I should've known that you'd return
The moment I was... ?

So we meet again my heartache
Like two lovers torn apart
Bound together by the breaking
Of a tired and torrid heart

So we meet again my heartache
Just as leaves begin to change
How you've made my life a story
Filled with whirls you've rearranged

So we meet again my heartache
Come and join me in my pain
You're the reason I remember
Every sweet and sad charade

So we meet again my heartache
Come and sit with me a while
Rest your head upon my shoulder
Hide your face beneath my smile

So we meet again my heartache
Hold the glasses stilled with wine
I hope you join me in my toast, my ghoulish host
And maybe stay a while this time.
