

Twilight

Melody Gardot

My world is dark and cold since you went away my world is painted in a palette of gray The days go drifting by like a sailing ship out in the setting sky and I wonder why you left me in such a sorry state

I'm full of emptiness like a hollowed glass I don't know happiness but it's okay I guess because I know in time I will find somebody who will ease my mind and I'll leave behind my days in such a sorry state ooh

I'll be okay I'm fine foolish people always tell me love is blind well so was mine but baby please don't call I would rather have the silence than your voice at all All because you left me in such a sorry state
