Melvins

By the time you're natural
By the time you die
I'll take my head and spin it for you
I'll just look around
And I call you liar
And I call you dead
You've come and poisoned all the things
That I once sat upon

Everybody's hungry
Everybody's high
We'll sit around and ask ourselves
If it was all a lie
And I already told you
And I already see
But you have got to know yourself
And so I let it slide

Can we be together
Can you hold my hand
It takes forever
For the sound to get around
And I already love you
And I already want
But will we all
Just soar
