

Speechless

Memphis May Fire

It's a mystery, too good to be true,
I find my purpose when I look at you.
I bleed transparent, It's not the way I choose,
But it's only when I'm vulnerable, my true colors shine through

For a moment, I'm a poet without words,
Speechless 'cause you love me at my worst.
I don't deserve this,
I let it surface and all I know is,
Today I woke up falling in love again.

Starving artist, no match for a queen,
But walls come down and love's limitless when you find what's meant to be.
Supernatural, it's more than what we see.
A trust that can't be broken seemed impossible to me,
But I've tasted true love and I believe!

For a moment, I'm a poet without words,
Speechless 'cause you love me at my worst.
I don't deserve this,
I let it surface and all I know is,
Today I woke up falling in love again.
