

Being Brave

Menswear

Summer's almost here and the evening's getting warm
Screw my head on a different way
Hug my pillow and try not to count the days

Winter's gone away and the morning's aren't so cold
Rub the sleep out of my face
Hug my pillow and try not to count the days
Get your face out of my brain

I don't believe in being brave (ba ba ba bah)

Evening's over now and the daylight's on it's way
Empty bottles on the floor
Give it a backbeat and try not to lose your head
No, you won't have to pretend anymore

I don't believe in being brave (ba ba ba bah)

I only need my piece of space
I need to breathe

I don't believe in being brave (ba ba ba bah)

Now it's time to say goodnight, so sleep tight
