

Without Your Love

MercyMe

All of my life
I've been chasing
After
What was out of my reach
Time after time
All that I thought
Mattered
Still left me incomplete

Now I understand
Now I understand
This isn't who I am
It isn't who I am

I could live my life out loud
Turn this world upside down
But it will never be enough
Without Your love
I could make the mountains move
Give everything I have for You
But it will never be enough
Without Your love

It's hard to believe
Just knowing
That my heart
Is what You came here for
You will never leave
No more working
Or trying
Can make You love me more

Now I understand
Now I understand
This is who I am
This is who I am

I could live my life out loud
Turn this world upside down
But it will never be enough
Without Your love
I could make the mountains move
Give everything I have for You
But it will never be enough
Without Your love

There is nothing I can say
Without Your love
There is nothing I can do
Without Your love
I cannot do anything without You

I could live my life out loud
Turn this world upside down
But it will never be enough
Without Your love
I could make the mountains move

Give everything I have for You
But it will never be enough
Without Your love

There is nothing I can do
Without Your love
There is nothing I can say
Without Your love
