Where Lovers Meet

Meredith Brooks

Today I write in my book Dear God I need a change I can't keep hiding Wishing the mirror was lying

Show me where do I look I know there must be a plan Though I can't see one I go through the motions anyway

Here I go again Walking down a road I've never known

I want to go where lovers meet I want to breathe the air they breathe I want to touch the dreams they dream When I find someone to love I want to go where lovers Where lovers meet

I know my faith is blind I'll take my chances I'm tired of just surviving I 'm not wasting any time

Just like tears in the rain No one can see Inside my heart is crying Telling me I can't lie any more

Here I go again Walking down a road I've never known

I want to go where lovers meet I want to breathe the air they breathe I want to touch the dreams they dream When I find someone to love I want to go where lovers meet Feel the wind beneath my feet Oh, I want to feel that complete When I find someone

I spent half my life Wasting my time I don't want to hear my heart beating alone Oh

I want to go I want to go where lovers meet
