

After Dark

Merle Haggard

After dark when the lights turn on all over the world Gamblers and musicians, lovers and harlots all turn on I bid a hearty good mornin' to the evenin' that beckons me on And dares me to sleep while the night half of the world moves a long

After dark when the lights turn on all over the world
You'll find gamblers and musicians, lovers and harlots all turn on I'll bid a hearty good mornin' to the evenin' that beckons me o n
And dares me to sleep while the rest of the world moves along
