

Someday You're Gonna Need Your Friends Again

Merle Haggard

Someday you're goin' to need your friends again
When you come back down you're goin' to want for them
With your diamond rings and your fancy clothes
You stand there starin' down your nose
Someday you're goin' to need your friends again

We're happy to see that all your dreams came true
You slighted your friends and they're all down on you
You could take good luck all in stride but instead you pushed u s all aside
It's somebody's place to say these things to you

Yeah, someday you're goin' to need your friends again
When you come back down you're goin' to want for them
With your diamond rings and your fancy clothes
You stand there starin' down your nose
Someday you're goin' to need your friends again

We're happy to see that all your dreams came true
You slighted your friends and they're all down on you
You could take good luck all in stride but instead you pushed u
s all aside
It's somebody's place to say these things to you

Someday you're goin' to need your friends again
When you come back down you're goin' to want for them
With your diamond rings and your fancy clothes
You stand there starin' down your nose
Someday you're goin' to need your friends again