

You Don't Love Me Anymore

Merle Haggard

You used to get so uptight
When I didn't hurry home from work at night
But now you say you've changed your mind
A man can use his space, he needs his time
And you never say a word when I forget to open up the door
That's because I know that you don't love me anymore

I've seen the lamp of love burn out before
And I've walked that path of hurt right through the hardwood floor
Then I wrote a hurtin' song like you've never heard before
That's because I know you don't love me anymore

I've seen the lamp of love burn out before
And I've walked that path of hurt right through this hardwood floor
And then I wrote a hurtin' song like you've never heard before
That's because I know you don't love me anymore
