Everything I Made

I know this makes no sense I'm gonna try and explain All that you're feeling To try and unlock your pain And I beg forgiveness If that's what it takes Or has all this been wasted

Cause yesterday was good But yesterday is gone Everything I said It always took too long And I broke all my promises, so easy And I broke all my promises, so easy And there's just enough

Everything I did Ended up so wrong Everything I made Never lasted long Everything I did Ended up so wrong Everything I made Never lasted long

You know it's not your fault And it could feel like a game I'm lost in this moment I'm always shifting the blame And you pull your punches Can't you just follow through? You just don't deserve this

Cause yesterday was good But yesterday is gone Everything I said It always took too long And I broke all my promises, so easy And I broke all my promises, so easy And there's just enough

Everything I did Ended up so wrong Everything I made Never lasted long Everything I did Ended up so wrong Everything I made Never lasted long

There's just no other way There's just no other way

Mesh

There's just no other way

Everything I did Ended up so wrong Everything I made Never lasted long Everything I did Ended up so wrong Everything I made Never lasted long

I never meant to hurt you so much I've broken everything that I touch We shouldn't have to spend our lives Stuck in the past making it last forever I never meant to hurt you so much I've broken everything that I touch We shouldn't have to spend our lives Stuck in the past making it last forever