

Hold It Together

Mesh

Only you know where the line is
Only you know what you've done
Only love can make your eyes stay
And your world without the sun
And there's so much time for thinking
That your head just might explode

But...
You hold it together
And you can't last forever
You carry around the bruises
Trapped behind the walls
But it was worth it all

Only you know you deserve it
Cause you know how the acid burns
Taken broken into twisting
Keep on twisting till he learns
And it's time to face your demons
If all those demons hadn't left
You alone

Because...
You hold it together
And you can't last forever
You carry around the bruises
Trapped behind the walls
But it was worth it all
You hold it together
And you can't last forever
You carry around the bruises
Trapped behind the walls
But it was worth it all

You serve your sentence
No excuses
You serve your sentence
No excuses
You love me after all
