I wanna switch off you wanna switch on
(I wanna switch off you wanna switch on)
I want to be free you want to belong
(I want to be free you want to belong)
And everything clicks when I'm right and you're wrong
(I want to switch off you want to switch on)
And nothing makes sense when we're getting along
(I want to switch off you want to switch on)

It only feels good when I'm treating you bad
(It only feels good when I'm treating you bad)
You only feel happy when you're driving me mad
(You only feel happy when you're driving me mad)
It's always too much if it's more than we had
(You only feel happy when you're driving me mad)
It's always too much if it's more than we had
(It only feels good when I'm treating you bad)

And who says it won't last forever
And who says it won't stay together
And who says it's hopeless and twisted and loveless
It might be the perfect solution

I only take sides if the other one's you
(I only take sides if the other one's you)
You only make love when I'm not in the room
(You only make love when I'm not in the room)
And every damn day I get closer to you
The tougher things get the harder we chew
And every damn day I get closer to you
The tougher things get the harder we chew

And who says it won't last forever
And who says it won't stay together
And who says it's hopeless and twisted and loveless
It might be the perfect solution

It might be the perfect solution
(It might be the perfect solution)
It might be the perfect solution

And who says it won't last forever
And who says we won't stay together
(And who says)
And who says it's hopeless and twisted and loveless
It might be the perfect solution
(And who says)
And who says it won't last forever
And who says we won't stay together
(And who says)
And who says it's hopeless and twisted and loveless
It might be the perfect solution

And who says
And who says
