The Mouth Licking What You've Bled

Meshuggah

I'm the shallow, the superficial. I'm the common man. faithless, narrow minded, indifferent, impassive.

A sycophantic leech. tantamount to disintegrity. I'm the vultur e feeding on malignancy.

I'm the sin, the lecherous sneering at prostration. I wallow in disease. I rejoice at degradation.

I yawn at misery. Spit at others happiness. An advocate of mani pulation. I embrace the sickening.

I'm the lost. I'm average. I'm common. I'm infection. I'm human
. I'm common

A worm thriving in seas of disgust. I'm common. The mouth licking what you've bled. I'm common

I'm the pampered degenerate. I indulge my inclinations
The only words to my attention are those that I my self create Disorder. Chaos.

I debar all order, repudiate all purity. Infatuated by contentm ent.

I laugh at lies. Come behold the sickness in my common human ey es.

I'm the greed. The cynic. I'm the indifferent gaze. Mendacity, betrayal; this is not a phase Ebullient with human filth, here I am. Here I stay. Flourishing in our disgrace. Blessed be the human way.
