

Transfixion

Meshuggah

Trapped in a gaze where time stand still
Connected to a blur sensations deformed
We are to drown just to become
Another set of eyes among the millions

Enchanted we fade selecting illusions
Dwellers of the scene a new world obsessed
Gods of displays divine screens
Radiate us now your blessing

Down kneel to shields of glass
To the sovereign
Bleed for the entity of wavelenghts

Transfixed yet eyes glowing with delight
Delusions of omniscience bred us my liars
Mentally drained by the growing leech
Fed on our manic desire

Oceans of sewage continual
Washing into our minds
Drowning in wasted integrity
With eyes too open to see vanity

Engulfed in super fiction fields
What are we when the false pictures
Dissolve

Caged within a twilight world
Devoid of own self made thoughts
Stare blind ...
