

To All My Homies

Mest

Good and bad things come in life and I wish the good things would stay but usually it don't go my way and the good things fly away I have a knack for doing wrong but I try and I try maybe my future don't look so bright but I'm not asking why

You gotta live your life from day to day that's the only way
don't fear the things that you don't know just listen and learn and let the hard feelings go

I try to make new friends from day to day and if they respect me man fuck they're ok it's the yuppity white people that fear me that I can't stand to see cause if you're a good person at heart your color means nothing to me I talk to so many black people from day to day and it seems like every time I see a white person they just turn away

don't fear the things that you don't know
just listen and learn and let the hard feelings go

ya ya that's the only way
don't fear the things that you don't know
just listen and learn and let the hard feelings go
