I'm gone I'm outta here, it's not the place for me I've lost the sense of self and my reality I can't believe my eyes, it's right in front of me I watched you change your face In hopes of changing me

Like a soul eating machine Feeding on my hopes and dreams Screaming at the world outside Now there's nothing left inside

How do you sleep at night? Now that's a mystery You blew up every bridge You've got your hooks in me Tell me just one more thing How did you come to this There's just one place for you And it's your own abyss Never to be missed
