

Between Dark And Light

Metal Law

Full moon shines again in the sky
I feel transformation coming soon
It's time to show my real nature
Release the power, unleash the beast

A lonely figure stands in the shadow
He's following your path, stained with the blood
Black cloak, white collar on the neck
A cross-shaped silver blade in his hand

Don't dare to turn your back!
Are you ready to run with the pack?
The final fight will start tonight
To choose between dark and light
Dark and light, between dark and light
Who will survive?

The wild creature is hunting for prey
Here she's coming, without any fear
She's young and trusts the world
She doesn't think that she could die

I'm a crusader with a murdering mission
Holy fire inside my soul
It's time to show my real nature
Release the power, unleash the beast

Don't dare to turn your back!
Are you ready to run with the pack?
The final fight will start tonight
To choose between dark and light
Dark and light, between dark and light
Who will survive?
