

We don't trust in destiny
We don't trust in the hands of time
We just try to push it further
Everything's under control
Everything seems to be fine
But we're still not satisfied, no
And now I hear you say
That's the way it should be
Don't you care what we leave behind

Can't you see the signs come and take the time
look behind
Come and follow me, because we hold the key
Spirit of our time

Destiny
Unholy or divine
there is no end in sight
Destiny
Don't close your eyes
Don't believe all their lies

Can you read between the lines
Will we stand the test of time
If we don't stop what we have started
When will we learn to read the lines
When will we learn to feel the signs if you don't believe, just take a look to the sky

Can't you see the signs - come and take the time
look behind
Come and follow me, because we hold the key
Spirit of our time

Destiny
Unholy or divine
there is no end in sight
Destiny
Don't close your eyes
Don't believe all their lies

Don't you dare to rewrite Genesis, or you will become a Demon of Insanity

Spirit of our time

Destiny, don't believe all
Unholy or divine
there is no end in sight
Destiny, don't believe all
Don't close your eyes
Don't believe all their lies
Unholy and divine, there's no end in sight
Don't close your eyes don't believe their lies
