

Barcelona

Metro Station

Wake up in the middle of the night
Hear me call someone's name
Make up another line
To dull some of your pain
Pretending you don't mind
Pretending it's alright
Wake up in the middle of the night
Like a bad dream you say...

You're never coming back
Don't care anyway
What is it that I lack?
And then you heard me say

I left my heart in Barcelona
I fell in love I should have told ya
Wish that I could say it's over
I left my heart in Barcelona

Up high in a cold blank stare
Your face is all I see
Tongue tied cause nothings there
Except your misery
Nothing left to deny
Just tears that never dry
Wake up in the middle of the night like a bad dream you say...

You're never coming back
Don't care anyway
What is it that I lack?
And then you heard me say

I left my heart in Barcelona
I fell in love I should have told ya
Wish that I could say it's over
I left my heart in Barcelona

Her face is all I see
Without her I can't sleep
Her voice is all I hear
I know she's waiting there
Your face is all I see
Without you I can't sleep
Your voice is all I hear
I know your waiting there

I left my heart in Barcelona
I fell in love I should have told ya
Wish that I could say it's over

Left my heart in Barcelona
I Left my heart I left my heart

I left my heart I left my heart
