Take You Home

Metro Station

Thinking 'bout all the times spent in too warm
You see I don't ever fear like it's begun
Busy when I and time stands still Thinking of you only makes it real

When I'm walking the streets in the middle of the night
I see you, I see you, I want to hold you tight
When you're lying in my heart with the rhythm
And I fall for you, you take a second and you know just what I wanted to

Oh, can I please take you home?
I swear you to love you more
Than any boy before
And this is killing me, killing me

Oh, can I please take you home?
I swear you to love you more
Than any girl before
And this is killing me, killing me

God, it's so hard
To stop what's going around
Chasing love and staying on the run

When I'm walking the streets in the middle of the night
I see you, I see you, I want to hold you tight
When you're lying in my heart with the rhythm
And I fall for you, you take a second and you know just what I wanted to

Oh, can I please take you home?
I swear you to love you more
Than any boy before
And this is killing me, killing me

Oh, can I please take you home?
I swear you to love you more
Than any girl before
And this is killing me, killing me

Baby, under cover we can live it up, give it up
Baby, be my lover we can live it up, give it up
Baby, under cover we can live it up, give it up
Baby, be my lover we can live it up, give it up

Come closer
I can feel you
There's no other
That can do what I do, yeah

Oh, can I please take you home?
I swear you to love you more
Than any boy before
And this is killing me, killing me

Oh, can I please take you home?
I swear you to love you more
Than any girl before

And this is killing me, killing me

Baby, under cover we can live it up, give it up
Baby, be my lover we can live it up, give it up
Baby, under cover we can live it up, give it up
Baby, be my lover we can live it up, give it up

Baby, under cover we can live it up, give it up
Baby, be my lover we can live it up, give it up
Baby, under cover we can live it up, give it up
Baby, be my lover we can live it up, give it up
