

Loving You

Mia Martina

Could you please let my heart rest in pieces?
If you ever loved me at all, you'd let me be
Can't you see how bad I really need this?
Don't try to write or try to call
Just let me free cause
I loved you more than I loved anyone
Ever before
Oh and you said you love me
You didn't love us anymore
So tell me baby

How can I un-break what's been broken?
And stop loving you
How can I un-hear what's been spoken?
And stop loving you
Can't stop loving you

I'm a mess just a shell of myself
It's a long road to heaven (heaven)
When you sit it in there
When you left all my tears could never tell
But my eyes were overflowing, and asleep they fell
'Cause I loved you more than I loved anyone
Ever before
Oh and you said you love me
You didn't love us anymore
So tell me baby

How can I un-break what's been broken?
And stop loving you
How can I un-hear what's been spoken?
And stop loving you
Can't stop loving you
Can't stop loving you
I can't stop loving you!

How can I un-break what's been broken?
And stop loving you
How can I un-hear what's been spoken?
And stop loving you
Can't stop loving you
Can't stop loving you
