Miami Horror

I didn't know when to expect you Or even if you'd come at all And now they all try to possess you I'm still the one you choose to call

I don't know just where you came from, But I need you now. If you leave me for the stars It's not something I'd ever allow

The circumstances that you gone through I never seem to cross your mind But just consider we could do You'd be surprised at what you'll find

I don't know just where you came from, And I need you now. If you leave me for the stars It's not something I'd ever allow I don't know just where you came from, And I need you now. If you leave me for the stars It's not something I'd ever allow

And it all comes back to you Even words can't discern Make me wonder if it's true So it goes through another day

I don't know just where you came from, But I need you now. If you leave me for the stars It's not something I'd ever allow I don't know just where you came from, But I need you now. If you leave me for the stars It's not something I'd ever allow

I don't know just where you came from, And I need you now. If you leave me for the stars It's not something I'd ever allow I don't know just where you came from, And I need you now. If you leave me for the stars It's not something I'd ever allow
