

Still the Love of My Life

Michael Bolton

I've been thinkin' 'bout the first time I looked at you
I got the feelin' that I found someone I've always known
And ever since that day, we laughed and we cried
We learned along the way that love takes a lifetime
Can't believe I've found somebody like you

You're still the reason why the sky will never fall
This love will never die forever we can have it all
And when I need to believe, I just look in your eyes
You're still the one, you're still the love of my life
Of my life, my life

We've had our ups and downs, we run against the wind
I built some mighty walls and watched your heart just climb right in
Some people thought we'd crumble but they were wrong, we survived
And makin' love to you still feels like the first time
Here with me, there ain't nobody but you

You're still the reason why the sky will never fall
This love will never die forever we can have it all
And when I need to believe, I just look in your eyes
You're still the one, you're still the love of my life

Had a taste of the cold hard rain
Walk through the winds of change
But they just made us that much stronger
Even now when I watch you sleep
Can't believe you're here with me
You are the answer, the answer to the rest of my life
You're still the reason why

You're still the reason why the sky will never fall
This love will never die forever we can have it all
And when I need to believe, I just look in your eyes
You're still the one, you're still the love of my life

You're still the reason why the sky will never fall
This love will never die forever we can have it all
And when I need to believe, I just look in your eyes
You're still the one, you're still the love of my life

You're still the reason why the sky will never fall
This love will never die forever we can have it all
And when I need to believe, I just look in your eyes
You're still the one, you're still the love of my life