

A Gift Of Life

Michael Card

Forgive me, oh Lord, for being so dim.
I've embraced this small gift, put my arms around Him.
I was holding so tight, it was all I could do;
I forgot that my arms belong first around You

Now Jesus has taught to let everything go:
All the thing that you hold, all the people you know.
If you'll stop asking questions and simply obey,
You'll possess them in a much more beautiful way.

So sing for the giver whose name is a prayer,
And sing to the baby He's given so fair,
And sing to yourself, be you husband or wife,
And remember a child is a gift of life.

So sing for the giver whose name is a prayer,
And sing to the baby He's given so fair,
And sing to yourself, be you husband or wife,
And remember a child is a gift of life.
And remember a child is a gift of life.
