Possibilities

Michael Hutchence

It's so strange
How my life's changed
I know nothing
About the people that I touched

Heard a story
It sounded easy
If you don't care
Then you're lying through your teeth

I was shook up Intoxicated Drank the juices Of the possibilities

I'm so alive

If you told me Nothing's perfect Hearts are broken Nothing's free

I could show you
Why it's worth it
That's the way that it's meant to be

It's too strange
How your life's changed
You know nothing
About the people that you've touched

Someone told me Life is easy Hearts were bleeding and breaking They were lying through their teeth

If you told me Nothing's perfect Hearts are broken Nothing's free

I will show you
Why it's worth it
And that's the way that it's meant to be

If you told me Nothing's perfect Hearts are broken Nothing's free

I could show you
Why it's worth it
That's the way that it's meant to be

Heard a story
It sounded easy
Got a new skin and

I'm lying through my teeth
I was shook up
Intoxicated
I drank the juices of the possibilities

Of the possibilities
