

Hit By A Feeling

Michael Learns to Rock

I've been looking for an angle
For a shortcut to your mind
There's no point for us to wrangle
So baby here's the bottom line (Here it goes)

I know you never left me when you ran away
'Cause I can tell you missed me more than you will say

Suddenly the sky turns blue I'm hit by a feeling
Whenever I am close to you my troubles fade away
Suddenly the wind gets warm I'm finally breathing (tonight)
That is how I know where I belong - you will always be the one

If you're ever feeling lonely
And you ever change your mind

You know I never blamed you for being brave
When I was way too scared to face the mess we'd made

Suddenly the sky turns blue I'm hit by a feeling
Whenever I am close to you my troubles fade away
Wherever I go and whatever I do
I'm always reaching out for you
That is how I know where I belong - you will always be the one

I am still reminded how we sat in silence
And you smiled at me and said
There's no need for us to cry 'cause this is not goodbye

Suddenly the sky turns blue I'm hit by a feeling
Whenever I am close to you my troubles fade away
Wherever I go and whatever I do
I'm always reaching out for you
That is how I know where I belong - you will always be the one
