

Romantic Balcony

Michael Learns to Rock

The sun is almost down and we are both enjoying the sound of the ocean softly brushing against the land

We are sleeping you and me with a smell of tulip tree under the starry sky on a romantic balcony

But a pain inside my chest wakes me up
The truth is slowly spreading on the smokey battlefield
I am bleeding from my heart and I...
I feel so tired
I guess I have to rest for a while

High above this world missing your love

I can see your face in tears when you so far away from here read the messages from the war:
"The battle took one more"
I wanna tell the nurse a secret my lips won't move Oh she really looks like you

High (nothing can touch us now) above (no one to tell us how this world (I am sorry for the soldiers) missing your love (who are still alive in the war

Hey you
I wanna live
I don't wanna be a wounded soldier don't wanna let your face grow older Hey you
take me to the ocean take me to the smell of tulip tree to the romantic balcony
