

Beautiful Life

Michael Schulte

It's so sad to see you use our friends against me
I tried to keep this all between us privately
You want attention for your loss as if you had me, but I'm not yours Where will I go from here
I'm not sure, but I'm happier
To make my mind up by myself, without you barriers
Believe your own lies if you want,
I'm sure that they comfort you sweet deception

I don't need you
I don't need you
No more grieving, no more saying goodbye
No more hard feelings, have a beautiful life

You made me forget the reason why we were once indestructible
A force to be reckoned with Now it feels like Titanic emotions, we're going down
You told my answering machine you felt that we were broken You called me up and asked me why we hadn't spoken
It seems so long ago and yesterday's a lifetime I'm moving on
With no regrets now

I don't need you
I don't need you
No more grieving, no more saying goodbye
No hard feelings, have a beautiful life
Beautiful life, beautiful life, beautiful life
No more grieving, no more saying goodbye
No hard feelings, have a beautiful life
Beautiful life
