

Wide Awake

Michael Schulte

I'm wide awake and still I'm gone
Just a dark room, a song for you I'm hanging in the clouds that you are craving Cause I'm craving, craving for you

I'm swaying in the doubt that's marching on fighting it but you're spare I'm breathing, feeling, craving just for you And I'm craving, craving, craving

Lying here wide awake, feeling you're here with me
You are my sweet escape
from stormy days
So many words to say
praying you'll come my way Without you I suffocate
with eyes wide shut

I hear you breathe, but you're not here
All that's left sedulity
I try to realise that it won't go away Cause I'm craving, craving, craving

Lying here wide awake
waiting for your embrace
You are my sweet escape
from stormy days
So many words to say
I'm praying you'll come my way
Without you I suffocate
with eyes wide shut

Ohhhhhhhhhhhh ohhhhhhhhhhhhhh

Lying here wide awake
waiting for your embrace
from stormy days
So many words to say
praying you'll come my way
Without you I suffocate
with eyes wide shut
