

You Let Me Walk Alone

Michael Schulte

I'm a dreamer, a make believer
I was told that you were, too
I love the silence and the clear horizon
And I got that all from you

Every now and then I'm drawn to places
Where I hear your voice or see your face
And every little thought will lead me right back to you

I was born from one love
Of two hearts
We were three kids and a loving mum
You made this place a home
A shelter from the storm
You said I had one life
And a true heart
I tried my best
And I came so far
But you will never know
'Cause you let me walk this road alone

My childhood hero will always be you
And no one else comes close
I thought you'd lead me
When life's misleading
That's when I miss you most

Every now and then I'm drawn to places
Where I hear your voice or see your face
And every little thought will lead me right back to you

I was born from one love
Of two hearts
We were three kids and a loving mum
You made this place a home
A shelter from the storm
You said I had one life
And a true heart
I tried my best
And I came so far
But you will never know
'Cause you let me walk this road alone

Ohhhh, ohhhh, ohhhh

I was born from one love
Of two hearts
We were three kids and a loving mum
You made this place a home
A shelter from the storm
You said I had one life
And a true heart
I tried my best
And I came so far
But you will never know
