

After Hollywood

Michael Stanley

From "Coming Up For Air", 1996, Intersound Music

She smiles like it's costing her money
She laughs like she's wasting her time
Just a small town girl all alone on the edge of the night with a boy back home wondering does she think of him tonight...

(CHORUS:)

Is there life after Hollywood
Is there love after all
Is there life after Hollywood
If there is, please call...

She said someday she'd be somebody and everyone they'll know her name Down the boulevard, running hard, chasing after that dream Ah, but in this town things are not ever quite what they seem...

(CHORUS)

(BRIDGE):

She's over the line and they know it
She'll do anything just for a taste Too much too soon and she knows it
One more former pretty face...

(CHORUS)
