

Have You Ever

Michelle Williams

I know someone whose love you can totally depend on.

Have you ever thought you needed any one this much before?

That's right, listen...

So you're finally tired, of the friends that you admired

Spreading love that leaves you empty, promises without a guarantee

Tell me what are you gonna do, 'cause it's really all up to you

Make up your mind today, please yeah

I know who you can go to, He'll never let you down

And his love you can depend on

Forever and ever...yeah

Have you ever, needed anyone this much before

Did you ever think that it'd be Jesus

No never, never knew his love is what you have been waiting for

So you search for security love of many and what it brings

Thought you'd buy you some happiness, but you found out it didn't last

One thing I wanna say, that it's all His anyway

Between you and me, ooh listen

I know who you can go to, He'll never
let you down

And his love you can depend on

Forever and ever...yeah

much before

Did you ever think that it'd be Jesus

No never, never knew his love is what you
have been waiting for

All of His love is for you

No He won't hold back, 'cause He's all of that, it's true

All of His love is for you

much before

Did you ever think that it'd be Jesus

No never, never knew his love is what you
have been waiting for
