Put Your Dreams Away

Mickey Gilley

Every now and then someone comes to you And somehow you know, a dream has just come true Well, here it is baby and what I'm trying to say Well here I am, darling, you can put your dreams away

Ever wish for love and you wish so long You begin to think, it would never come along Well, here it is baby, and what I'm trying to say Here I am, darling, so put your dreams away

Put your dreams away, just lay beside me Take all this love, that's here inside me Here's all the dream, you'll ever need

Put your dreams away, rest them on my shoulder Darling, the search is over, if you wanna love That's here to stay, you can put your dreams away

You can look for love, in a thousand eyes You can search the world, but don't you realize? That, here it is baby, what I'm trying to say I'll always love you darling, so, put your dreams away

Put your dreams away and just lay beside me Take all this love, that's here inside me Here's all the dream, you'll ever need

Put your dreams away, rest them on my shoulder Darling, the search is over, if you wanna love That's here to stay

Put your dreams away and just lay beside me Take all the love, that's here inside me Here's all the dream, you'll ever need