

Lifelong Dayshift

Middle Class Rut

Dangling on the edge of a lifelong dayshift
Sick of the days but they just don't work

Someone come and pull me out
I never lived a full year

And if it ain't working then it's another
So take what you need; with the rest don't bother

Someone come and pull me out
I never lived a full year

And every little need ain't your need
But you ain't the only mouth that you gotta feed
Or find a way to God
You're so wrapped up in it that you can't survive

Your life, it ain't worth wasting mine on
Your life, it ain't worth it
No, no-no it ain't

Thinking that you're life at the time is defined by
A hammer and a nail and you just gotta like it

Someone come and pull me out
I never lived a full year

But you ain't the kind that will lose that easy
One thing you got is the will to get it right

Someone come and pull me out
I never lived a full year

Your life, it ain't worth wasting mine on
Your life, it ain't worth wasting mine on

I won't accept that every day will just be thrown away
Because your life, it ain't worth wasting mine on

Your life, it ain't worth wasting mine on
Your life, it ain't worth wasting mine on

I won't accept that every day will just be thrown away
Because your life, it ain't worth wasting mine on

The end is coming up
