

Let Me Go

Midge Ure

Looking round for somewhere I can lay and rest my head
I need to close my eyes and shut my mind
From all the things we said
Over and over, I've done it again
Sipping comfort from my writer's cup
The one that's constantly filled up
The one that doubled as a crutch
The one I cling to oh, so much
It eases the sadness
It drowns all the sorrow and kills
All the pain

In the name of my father
Let me go
For the love of my babies
Let me go
If I could move I'd be long gone
Let me go
If I could see straight I'd fly like a bird
On the wing

If I pray like an angel
Let me go
To stop me dance with my devils
Let me go
If I had strength to believe in
Let me go

Believe in hope for a man who needs
Nothing at all

Lokking 'round for somewhere I can lay and rest my head
I need to close my eyes and shut my mind
My mind, my mind, my mind, my mind,
My mind

Over and over
Over and over, over, over, over, over

In the name of my father
Let me go
For the love of my babies
Let me go
If I could move I'd be long gone
Let me go
If I could see straight I'd fly like a bird
On the wing

If I had strength to believe in
Let me go
Believe in Hope for a man who needs nothing at all.
