

You'll always try
To hide in the night
And blink at the dawn,
You'll let it go,
Though you'll never know
When it all may be gone

We close our heart,
We shaped up our worlds
And rambles through dawn,
Throw down your shield,
Your future reveals
Where it feels yet to go.

You've got to open up your mind
And feel love in the light
You've got to open up your heart
And feel love in the light
(X2)

They won't decide
Which time by
Then float away
You can't give in
Just try to write an end
To rolls we could play

To satisfy
We're always attracted to
Divert and goodbyes
The more you seek
The rose, it could be
Right in front of your eyes

You've got to open up your mind
And feel love in the light
You've got to open up your heart
And feel love in the light
