I Want To Know

Midnight Panic

I want to know
What you are waiting for to change your life
My heart is a door
And all of the feelings run into my mind

We're on again, we're off again I try pretending this will mend Cause I want you to stay

How could you know How I am feeling Nothing will change unless you start giving

I want to know
Why you still call me
Nothing is changing
I am left dealing inside

I'm still confused with all of the feelings here inside my heart I wish you were here
So that I can see you
Look into my eyes

We're on again, we're off again I try pretending this will mend Cause I want you to stay

How could you know How I am feeling Nothing will change unless you start giving

I want to know
Why you still call me
Nothing is changing

I am left dealing inside We're on again, we're off again I am left dealing inside

How could you know How I am feeling how I am feeling Nothing will change unless you start giving

I want to know
Why you still call me
Nothing is changing
