

Resting Sound

Midtown

She's rising and I'm sinking I'm losing sleep, she's resting sound
in bed with such variety.
I'm driving and she's finding that she'll survive when I'm long gone.
Do I stay in your mind at least?

There's so much time
and nowhere left to go.
She's overcompensating
for what she can never let go of.
Time and nowhere left to go.
Am I just an escape
for time to pass through?

She's lying, and I'm thinking
She's trying to forget it all.
A memory of the past I'll be.
I'm buying that she's trying
The threat is clear and growing strong
I dream to have such clarity.

There's so much time
and nowhere left to go.
She's overcompensating
for what she can never let go of.
Time and nowhere left to go.
Am I just an escape
for time to pass through?

It's all I'm thinking about
I guess I'll figure it out
I'll think I'll drink to each new lesson.
Ignore the passing of days
eventually I'll fade
and in the end, it's just a lesson.
