

Hollywood Dreams

Miguel

Lost angel with an urgent silence
Changing eyes, and lipstick in fixation
Sweet hollywood sight, you're my salvation
Cocky sheets for the high dream, palm trees and a numb sensation
Chasing, uh-huh
Where his keys? Put my name on the hot key
Still waiting for my big break, for fame sake
And we could be better than heroes
We can fly higher than spaceships
So could you ever find the magic man, he can make it all happen
, alright
Lost hollywood dreams

Lost hollywood dreams

Say wow, up fame, became your religion woman
You need 'cause your faith is coming
Never walk up the shame woman
It's reputation, cheap faith, fake friends, coke beans
What a numb sensation
Then he said, honey I can put your name in the big screen
Now you're looking for the big brain
Coming for fame sake

Then we could be better than heroes baby alright
We can fly higher than spaceships
So could you ever find the magic man, he can make it all happen
, alright
Lost hollywood dreams

We could be better than heroes baby alright
We can fly higher than spaceships baby
So could you ever find the magic man, he can make it all happen
, alright
