

You Can Be The Rock

Mike & The Mechanics

You could be the rock
I could be the rollercoaster
I don't know how to stop
Even when the party's over

You could be the light
Even when there's no light shining
It'll be alright
I don't have to keep on hiding

When you climb this wall
You're not afraid to fall
And somehow
I know

I could be the book
You could be the final pages
Show me where to look
And I will be the man who changes

I could be the knife
You could be the voice of reason
You could save a life
Keep a cold heart beating

When you climb this wall
Not afraid to fall
And that's why I know

In the quiet of the night
I need you in my life
And it's clearer every day

Standing right in front of me
I feel you reaching out for something there inside

Everything that I can't see
You have never been afraid
To make it right...

When you climb this wall
Not afraid to fall
And somehow
I know

You could be the rock
I don't know how to stop
