

I Only Want To Love You

Pinder, Mike

Looking back, sometimes I wondered
Who held the key to your heart
Now I know, through places I travelled
Our love's unraveled a chart...

In my life I've waited...
For a chance to really make it...
Something written into my stars.
Past lives that I've lived
Only lead up to a gift
Of speaking out my thoughts in my songs.

I only want to love you
I only want to care
I'd like a friend to talk to
My feelings are to share...my life with someone
I hope it's you and that you'll care.

Our imagination is a secret of creation
Given to us right at the start,
And our destination is reaching for salvation.
From the city streets we've outgrown.

I only want to love you
I only want to care
I'd like a friend to talk to
My feelings are to share my life...with someone
I hope it's you and that you'll care.

I only want to love you...
So will you play this song again...
